

School Program

Interconnected World

Patient-oriented research provides us the opportunity to contribute to the greater good. This collection of original artworks, created by students in grades three through eight with the guidance of their art teachers, reinforces this concept by focusing on elements in nature that support and rely on one another.

A collaborative project between Cincinnati Children's, Kolar Design and the following schools:

Annunciation Catholic School

Kathy Chabot, Art Teacher

James N. Gamble Montessori High School

Jennifer Colson, Art Teacher

Rockdale Academy

James Neville, Art Teacher

St. Ignatius Loyola School

Kate Ungrund Art Teacher

Fairview-Clifton German Language School

Emily Bruns, Art Teacher

North Avondale Montessori School

Lillian Carter, Art Teacher

Sands Montessori School

Erin Dean, Art Teacher

The School for Creative & Performing Arts

Adrian Hawk, Art Teacher

kolar

Iyana

6th grade

Annunciation Catholic School

Margaret

6th grade

Fairview-Clifton German Language School

Kayla, Gage, Anthony & Saige

8th grade

James N. Gamble Montessori School

Morgan

4th grade

North Avondale Montessori School

Rodsha

4th grade

Rockdale Academy

Jack, Issey, Makandian, Aayahna, Jackson, Sarah, Karis, Brewster, Lily, Max & Yasmeen

4th – 6th grade

Sands Montessori School

Alex

6th grade

St. Ignatius School

Lea

3rd grade

The School For Creative & Performing Arts

School Program

Hidden Beauty

Discovering the mysteries of biology, this collection invites the celebration of the beauty of nature not able to be seen with the naked eye.

Through scientific exploration, students selected fluorescent, confocal and electron images of organisms that were used as the inspiration for these works. Each work is made from the layering of cut, colored paper.

A collaborative project between Cincinnati Children's, Kolar Design and students from St. Ursula Academy under the guidance of art teacher Alison Probst.

kolar

Andrea

12th grade

St. Ursula Academy

