

Art Photography

A Diverse Community

This concept captures views of nature that represent the uniqueness of individual components that work together to create a healthy ecosystem.

In workshops led by professional photographer Todd Joyce, patients and staff members' children from Cincinnati Children's Division of Behavioral Medicine and Clinical Psychology created the photography within this collection. Distinct seasons and times of day are represented in these uplifting and inspiring images.

A collaborative project between Cincinnati Children's, Kolar Design and professional photographer Todd Joyce.
